J - JIMMY BALWIT

Jimmy is thrilled to teach pottery again at MSCR. He is inspired by the broad community of potters--from the students and instructors to potters in distant lands working with traditional and modern techniques. Jimmy deeply enjoys the making process, particularly throwing on the wheel, altering forms, and subjecting them to the fury and whim of the wood kiln. He is most interested in forms that carry the movement of the wheel and dynamic, undulating lines that move beyond the bounds of symmetry.
